Spraying Varies With Season-Area

Questions continue to come in asking about spraying pecan trees. The exact date to spray pecan trees for the nut case bearer (small worm that bores into small pecans) varies from season to season and from area to area. This condition is due to variable seasons. Authorities generally agree that spring arrived in the Central Texas area some 15 to 20 days later than usual this year.

What does this have to do with spraying trees? The tiny olive green worm that damages young pecans spends the winter as a partially grown larva in a tiny silken cocoon usually attached to a bud. In the spring, the larvae feed for a short time on the buds, after which they tunnel into the developing shoots until they reach maturity.

The first generation moths appear in late April and early May. Two or three days after the adults emerge, they deposit eggs on the tips of small pecans. These eggs hatch in 4 or 5 days into tiny worms that migrate to buds below the nuts to feed. After a day or two, they enter the nuts.

Situation at present - Clusters of small pecans are forming this week. The tassels appearing on pecan trees now are the male flowers. During the next ten days the young pecans will be formed that spray applications should not be applied until the latter half of May.

News articles will keep the public informed as to the best time to spray pecan trees. Plans should be made for spraying. Materials for controlling the pecan nut casebearer are: 3 lbs of 50 per cent wettable DDT or 1 pound of 25 per cent wettable parathion, or 1 pint of nicotine sulphate plus 2 quarts of summer oil or 3 pounds of wettable toxaphene or 3 pounds of 25 percent wettable malathion per 100 gallons of water. Add 2 pounds of zinc sulphate per 100 gallons of spray to correct iron deficiencies.

The Morris family and Scott family were stationed together with the Air Rescue Sqdns at Ladd AFB and Elmendorf AFB Alaska. Also visiting here were S-Sgt Charles Husby and George Williamson also of Minot, N. Dak.

Mrs. Carroll Green, Mrs. A. L. Robertas, and Mrs. Frank Luecke attended the state convention of Texas Federated Women Clubs in Austin Tuesday representing the Cameron Delphian Club.

More Farm Profit From Less Acres

COLLEGE STATION — Texans take pride in the size of their farming operations. Sometimes they overlook the fact that large operations also may be inefficient—that more profit often can be obtained by more intensive farming methods practiced on fewer acres.

This is particularly true with vegetable crops, says Dr. H. C. Mohr, associate professor of horticulture, Texas A & M College System. For example, cabbage when grown in twin rows on the bed, gives yields about double those of single rows on the bed. Very little additional fertilizer and irrigation are required. Cultivation is the same and labor for thinning and harvesting is much more efficient than on the single row. Thus the yield is doubled at much less than double the production cost. The difference Mohr points out is additional profit.

Failure of more efficient methods (or of improved hybrids or varieties) to make more money for growers has been related to failure to adjust acreage. Vegetables are very responsive to the supply-demand situation. If more efficient practices are used, without proportionate adjustment of acreage, excessive supplies usually result in severe price declines, and the grower may make less than he did before he used the new practices (or varieties).

When a new practice is undertaken, the grower should try to produce the same quantity of the crop as before, but on fewer acres, Mohr emphasizes. In this way the market will not be glutted, and the grower can realize additional profit from his improved efficiency. Of course he will then have to decide how to use the acres he no longer needs for a particular crop.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gurecky of the Marak Community were S-Sgt. and Mrs. Julian E. Scott and daughters of Ellington A. F. B. Houston. They were there to meet S-Sgt. and Mrs. M. T. Morris and daughters of Minot AFB North Dakota. Mrs. Morris and children are remaining at the home of her parents while Sgt. Morris is attending an A & E Course at Shepherd AFB Texas.

Farming Becomes Competitive

COLLEGE STATION — The financial position of farmers at the beginning of 1959 was favorable. But now the prospects are less encouraging, reports John McHane, extension economist. Farm income has dropped substantially from 1958 levels and a further decline is likely in 1960.

Farm assets and equities continued to increase in 1959, but by the lowest percentage since 1955. The rise in farm assets and equities may stop for a time in 1960 or 1961. Also, farm debts rose during 1959 and are likely to increase further in 1960, the economist says.

Even though the farm financial outlook is less favorable, it varies considerably by types of farming and by areas of production. The outlook for operators of the larger and more productive farms and of those operators who have been able to expand their volume of business is much better than for the operators of smaller and less productive farms.

The production and marketing of agricultural products is becoming more and more competitive between farmers and areas of production. Agriculture is becoming more commercialized and specialized with a larger investment. This is not only true in agriculture, but also in most businesses outside agriculture, McHane points out.

One way the individual farmer may solve the price-cost squeeze is through the proper amount and use of land, labor, capital and management. Some farmers have the resources to be efficient and

PICTURED ABOVE are Donna DuBois and David McClaren who were recently crowned King and Queen of the Milam County Wide 4-H Club. Donna is in her third year of Club work and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack DuBois of Cameron. David has been in 4-H for 4 years and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. McClaren of the Marlow community.

Farm Waterways Present Major Conservation

Farm waterways have always presented one of the major conservation problems to land owners as well as soil conservationists in this part of the state. Whether a waterway is used to carry terrace or outside water across the farm, it usually has to carry heavy concentrations of water at a fast rate. Through the years heavy rains usually cause severe erosion on these waterways. The sides become steep and bare. Then each successive rain cuts a little more soil from the banks, destroys the vegetation and leaves a deep ugly scar on the land that produces nothing except silt to fill up ponds, lakes and streams as it moves toward the Gulf.

Johnny Goode, a farm owner five miles north of Cameron, has a natural waterway across his farm that provided a similar problem to the above. It carries outside and terrace water. Each rain caused it to erode and deposit silt in his stock pond below. The gully was so steep that it could not be tilled or mowed. The area covered was about three acres which was on his better land and produced nothing.

MRS. L. KARCHER, LaGrange, Texas

'You can't miss' when you use
Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour,
says Mrs. L. Karcher

'Flaky' can-filled 'Sweetheart Crescents' delicious enough to turn any man's head—have won the $100 top prize for May in Gladiola's yeast bread Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest.

The honored homemaker is Mrs. L. Karcher, Route 1, LaGrange, Texas. She is donating half her cash award to the Ladies Aid of Trinity Hill Lutheran Church in LaGrange.

Depends on Gladiola

Mrs. Karcher is the wife of a semi-retired Lutheran minister. With one son, two daughters and nine grandchildren, she's been kept "mighty busy" through the years meeting a steady demand for her tempting yeast bread creations.

"I love to bake, especially with yeast," she says. "I don't consider myself a particularly good cook, but when you use a good recipe and Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour you can't miss. I always use Gladiola because I can depend on it."

Tip to Teen-agers

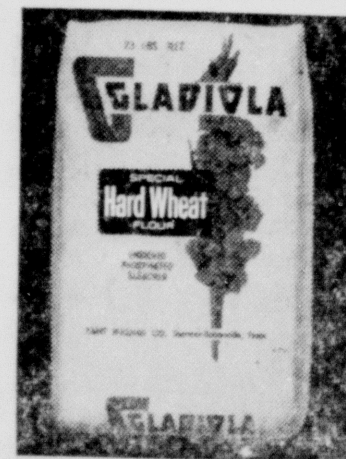

Mrs. Karcher hopes today's young women, while still in their teens, will learn the most important lesson of all in yeast bread baking—the right flour to start with.

"All-purpose flour has its place, of course, but not in yeast dough. You want dough with lots of 'life' to it—strong and springy. Smooth to the touch, too, not starchy and sticky. You can try and try, but you'll never get yeast dough like that with an all-purpose flour.

'Wonderfully Satisfying'

"With Gladiola Special, it's no trick at all. The way your dough performs in the oven, the way it holds that good yeast flavor, will always be a wonderfully satisfying experience.

"Speaking of teen-agers," Mrs. Karcher adds, "I hope we'll soon see one winning a $100 prize in the Gladiola recipe contest. It would make us grandmothers feel good to know that the new generation is discovering the fun of old-time yeast bread baking."

11 CASH PRIZES EVERY MONTH

Here are easy contest rules

1. This monthly contest is Gladiola's way of stimulating the exchange of good yeast bread recipe ideas between you and your neighbors here in the Home Baking Heart of Texas. Anyone may enter except employees (and their families) of Fant Milling Co., its affiliated companies and its advertising agency.
2. Write down your favorite yeast bread recipe using Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour. List all ingredients, then explain briefly each step in the procedure.
3. Cut off the strip that says "Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour" from the folder enclosed in every bag. Send it — with your recipe — to Glad Times, Sherman, Texas.
4. Send in as many yeast bread recipes as you wish. Mail each recipe in a separate envelope, enclosing a Gladiola strip as explained in Rule No. 3.
5. Each month's recipes are judged separately, with an independent graduate home economist as the final judge. Recipes received in May will be eligible for prizes to be announced in August.
6. For the outstanding recipe received each month, Gladiola will pay $100. Half the prize money—$50—goes to the winner. The remaining $50 goes to the church of her choice as her special contribution.
7. Ten other yeast bread recipes will be chosen each month for $10 Honorable Mention prizes.
8. All recipes submitted become the property of Fant Milling Company, Sherman, Texas, with full publication rights. Recipes cannot be returned.

SWEETHEART CRESCENTS

Mrs. Karcher's Flaky Sweetheart Crescents

4 cups sifted Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour	1/2 cup thick sour cream
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla

Add liquids to dry ingredients, stir to form a dough. Divide dough into 8 portions. On sugared surface, roll each into an 8-inch circle 1/4 inch thick. Cut into 8 wedges. Spread with Pecan Filling (below). Roll each wedge, starting with the wide edge. Place on greased baking sheet, point side down, form into a crescent. TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

Page 4 CAMERON, TEXAS' HERALD, MAY 5, 1966

Memorial Hospital for years and years and we feel that we have been fully rewarded for our choice by favorable results.

In my capacity as Inspector for the Department of Agriculture, I travel eight counties over Texas in and about Milam County and throughout these counties I hear the questions asked:

1. How did Cameron manage to get an opportunity for a new hospital with government assistance?
2. How many communities are afforded an opportunity to obtain new hospitals such as this?

3. Why aren't the people of Cameron and Milam County more interested in such a worthwhile project?

To these questions I can only answer that I personally know that most of the people of Milam County are of one accord, that they all realize the need for a new hospital and also realize that such an opportunity as this with government assistance cannot be passed up but most of them are letting "John" do the work; but when the times comes, they will deliver the goods.

A man does not have to be trained in medicine or surgery to realize the benefits of a project of this magnitude and it is difficult to realize why a person would not actively support any program of benefit to his community, regardless of the program or what or whom it concerned. The economic as well as the health value of this is apparent and those who do not participate and actively support such a venture in their community are either misinformed, poorly informed or not informed at all.

One major reason our nation is strong is because it looks after the health of its citizens. I am sure that Cameron and Milam County will continue in the future as in the past to look after the health of its citizens and that the businessmen of Cameron and Milam County will recognize the economic as well as the health value of this program.

You never know when you or yours might be carried, acutely ill or unconscious to a hospital. For years and years in the past Cameron and Milam County has been a hospital and medical center known throughout the state of Texas as well as the whole nation. All surrounding counties are watching you. To my Milam County friends, I urge you please meet this challenge and do not lose this prestige. Do not lose this opportunity.

It is with a great deal of pride and satisfaction that I have observed and reviewed the interest shown. However, it is also with a great deal of surprise that I have noted a certain apathy in places toward this program. Why? — There is no doubt in my mind this is due to one of two things:

1. Have people who understand this project presented it thoroughly and properly and extensively?
2. Have the people who do not understand this program exerted sufficient effort to hear and understand the program and have they availed themselves of the opportunity to hear the program.

If there is anything you wish to know to better familiarize yourself with the project, you can do so by visiting the Newton Memorial Hospital Campaign Headquarters in the Sealy Lamkin Building, next door to the Chamber of Commerce.

Do not think me presumptuous. I have a personal, unselfish interest in this matter. I urge you with all available means to actively support and cooperate with the most worthwhile project for your community, county and state.

Rise to this challenge! Accept the challenge. Meet it. Conquer it.

"You, my friends of Milam County, are just as deserving, just as able, just as surely will provide yourselves with improved service, as are and will and do the people of the larger cities."

"My heart is with you. I commend you for the interest you have taken and for the increased interest you will take in the welfare of your community. I am envious of this opportunity. My hat is off to you. I recommend you again. Your City is destined for great things, — growth, prosperity, health, improved economy and high morale. Think how lucky you are for this opportunity. Give every support to the fullest of your ability."

Sincerely and respectfully,
Clint Lewis

ALSO SUNTANG BEVERAGES

"Under 21" by Dan Halligan

Dear Dan: Fourteen of us, a year and two out of high school, have formed a car club. Our primary purpose is remodeling our own cars into custom cars, although one of our by-laws does say we will promote traffic safety. One of our members has been arrested twice in the last three weeks for speeding and we don't know what to make of it. He helped organize the club and we don't want to take any action against him but something's got to be done. We don't live in a big city and word will soon get around that we're all a bunch of speeders. Help us right away with your opinion. Thanks. G.A.

Dear G. A.: I don't know what your membership rules say about a charter member being given special privileges but I do know if he keeps giving the club adverse publicity, it won't last long. Remember the story of the one bad apple in the barrel? If 13 of you impress on your buddy he's getting unpopular, I'm sure he'll straighten out and slow down. Otherwise, vote him out of the club for your own sakes and reputation.

Dear Dan: Latey I've been thinking seriously about starting to smoke but I haven't done anything about it yet. I don't know if my parents would approve because I'm not quite 15. Most of the boys I hang around with are 16 and 17 and most of them smoke with their parents' permission.

What do you think my parents will say if I ask them. Carl

Dear Carl: Rather than start smoking because the "Crowd" does, forget the idea entirely. For one thing, you are too young. Secondly, keep in mind that in all the thousands of words printed and spoken each week by companies advertising cigarettes, cigars and pipe tobacco, there's never a single mention that "Smoking is good for you." I'm not qualified to say smoking is responsible in part or whole for certain diseases but I do know it isn't as good as a glass of milk for a boy of 14 and certainly is too expensive. You be a very foolish boy to start smoking, believe me.

Dear Dan: Will you settle this argument for me I'm a high school junior and have a steady boy friend whom I'm allowed to date one evening a week. He walks me home from school every day and because he does, my parents say I can't see him anymore than that. I think he should at least be allowed to come by the house one night a week and see me. Mother says she'll be interested to hear what you have to say and so will I. Ellen P.

Dear Ellen: If your parents allow you to date steady, they should go along with the one house date a week if you can agree on a reasonable time for your boy friend to go home. Of course, if it takes the two of you about two hours to walk from school to your house, that's another matter and I'll have to agree with your par-

25 Candidates Seek Milam Posts

About 6,000 Milam County voters are expected to go to the polls in the Democratic Primary Saturday to vote for candidates in 15 county and precinct offices and 18 district, state and federal posts.

Twenty-five candidates are running for public office in Milam County's 1960 primary with 25 candidates are on the county ballot for state and federal posts ranging from congressman to governor.

County election officials report that about 90 percent of registered voters and other persons eligible but exempted by law from poll tax payment, have voted during primary elections in prior years.

In the 1958 primary, a near record, 5,940 non-presidential year voters cast ballots in Milam County. This year a total of 4,892 have registered for the primary.

A runoff election will be held June 4 for those races in which no candidate receives a majority vote and the total vote is closely divided between the top two candidates.

Since the filing deadline January 31, two candidates withdrew from two Precinct races. They were Gene Kirk, Cameron, an early candidate in the Precinct 1 constable race, and Pat Clark, Rockdale, a former candidate for state representative, 56th District.

Still running for precinct 1 constable are Marshall Terry and Harry Rogers, Jr., both of Cameron; and running for state representative Robertson - Milam Counties are Herman Yezak, Bremond and Richard Moseley, Cameron.

The only other constables race is in Precinct 6 where John Zajicek and J. A. Taylor, both of Buckholts, seek the office.

Other opposed county or district races include state senator, district judge, and commissioners in both Commissioner Precinct 1, Buckholts area and Precinct 3, Rockdale area.

Unopposed candidates are: Jack W. Prescott, county attorney; Carl C. Black, incumbent county sheriff; Valter T. White, incumbent county tax assessor - collector; Max McClaren, Democratic Executive Committee chairman; and six precinct constable posts.

They are: Gilford Thweatt, Precinct 2; F. B. Burks, Precinct 3; Ollie I. Cook, Precinct 4; George Gamble, Precinct 5; Herman Dornier, Precinct 7; and P. L. Paris, Precinct 8.

Other offices and candidates are: State Senator, 13th District, Godfrey Sullivan, Waco and incumbent Sen. Jarrard Secrest, Temple; district judge, Robert C. Nelson, and W. C. Wallace, both of Cameron.

Candidates running for Precinct

1 Commissioner are incumbent C. S. Raney and Joe Zajicek; and running for Precinct 3 Commissioner are J. B. Earle, Cliff Blackburn and Byron Neal.

Thirty-five precinct chairman candidates will go unopposed while two candidates, W. E. Kuzel and Mrs. John Burtis, are listed for the Precinct 32 Buckholts commissioner's post. Two precinct, Elmo Ridge and Watson Branch, have no committeeman candidate, election officials said.

Eight public weighers are to be elected in the eight constable precincts. No candidates are listed on the May 7 ballot.

38 Polls To Vote

Milam County Democratic voters Saturday will vote in 38 county boxes in the eight constable precincts, according to Max McClaren, chairman of the Milam County Democratic Executive Committee.

Affiliation Law Bars Cross-Vote

Texas Republicans this week were told that the Democratic Primary on May 7 is open to Democrats only.

A "GOP Keep - Out" sign was erected by State Democratic Chairman J. E. Connally of Abilene. Connally declared:

"The purpose behind the State's new 'Party Affiliation' law is to keep members of one political party from participating in the affairs of another party.

"A person who votes in the Democratic Primary on May 7 will have his poll tax receipt or exemption certificate stamped 'Democrat', and this affiliates him with the Democratic Party. He can not then participate in the Republican Party during the poll tax year.

"The policy behind this new law was laid down at our last State Democratic Convention. Our platform on party integrity calls for strengthening laws relating to primaries and conventions to keep people within their own parties. The Legislature amended the Texas Election Code to incorporate this policy under a 'Party Affiliation' law.

"The State Democratic Executive Committee has had many inquiries from people who want to vote in the Democratic Party's primary on May 7, and then take part in Republican conventions. This can't be done, under our new laws. A person affiliates himself as either a Democrat or a Republican on May 7. He can't be both."

Connally pointed out that the primary election judges are required, under the law, to stamp, "Democrat" on all poll tax receipts, exemption certificates or affidavits of loss. A stamped certificate of affiliation will be furnished those who aren't required to have a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate.

The political conventions are open only to those who have affiliated themselves with a Party. In the case of Democrats, a person must vote in the May 7 primary in order to attend his precinct convention, be a delegate, or hold any Party office.

- When Bob Nelson took office, there were many indictments on the docket, some of them dating back to Bill Morrison's day as D. A.
- 99 additional indictments have been returned by Grand Juries.
- Only 2 of the indictments still pending are old cases - and are being held on the docket to get money for a deserted wife and children from a husband who left them and to reimburse an injured party - this with the approval of the court.
- Only 35 indictments on docket of these 24 indictments are on men NOW IN THE PENITENTIARY - and the court has passed them until such time as they are released - THEN they can be tried here for crimes committed here.
- Five more are on men who are fugitives from justice - you can't try them till they're caught.
- One of the indictments is on a man who is in South America.
- Three of these are cases ready for trial - WHENEVER they have a lawyer appointed for them - Bob Nelson has no authority to appoint the lawyers.

He has held the post as state senator from Milam - Bell, McLennan Counties since 1953.

"I have tried to present this district with dignity, fairness and with what ability I had," Secrest said. "Our state continues to have critical problems, and I believe my experience during the last two terms has equipped me to be most helpful in their solution."

He has served on the State Affairs and Finance Committee, two general investigating committees which revealed the insurance scandals.

Active in civic, church and fraternal groups, Secrest has headed the Temple Chamber of Commerce since taking office. He has also served as president of his District Bar Association.

He is a graduate of Southwestern and Baylor Universities and a former student at the University of Texas. He has practiced law in Temple for 15 years. He is married and is the father of two sons, Jerry, 15, and Robert, 12.

"I trust my record will merit the continued confidence of the people of this district," Secrest said.

"The fiscal crisis in state government shows no signs of letting up," he said. "One who has the responsibility for spending must do so with great caution, but he must also see that Texas continues to progress with the services and facilities its people need," the Temple senator continued.

Secrest said also that "one must also have the courage to tax when taxes are needed, and the good sense to see that taxes are levied according to the principal of ability to pay and finally must have the vision to keep new taxes at the very minimum so that business groups and the people generally shall not be unduly burdened."

Secrest has reported to the people of his district through a television program during legislative sessions.

Godfrey Sullivan

Godfrey Sullivan
Seeks Election

To Senate Post

Godfrey Sullivan has announced that he is seeking election to the State Senate for the 13th Senatorial District composed of Bell, Milam and McLennan Counties.

Sullivan is a graduate of the Baylor University School of Law and has engaged in the practice of law in Waco for the past eight years. He was engaged in public accounting prior to that time for two years, and has been engaged in business in Central Texas for the past several years in addition to his law practice.

Godfrey Sullivan is a veteran of World War II, with more than four years overseas duty during the war, with duty in the South Pacific and Asiatic theatres.

He has been active in civic, church and fraternal groups in his community. Sullivan is a member of the Texas and American Bar Associations, Texas State Farm Bureau, National Defense Transportation Association, Masonic Lodge and Shriner, Chamber of Commerce and other community activities. He is a member of the Episcopal church, thirty nine years old married and has three children.

Godfrey Sullivan stated that he is definitely opposed to and will vote against the proposed state sales tax and the proposed state income tax. He stated that he will fight these measures in any form in which they may be presented by the special interest and pressure groups that have pushed such measures through their lobbyists in Austin for the past several years.

Sullivan stated that he is opposed to and will fight the "one-man" rule in Austin which is preventing all of the people of our great State from having effective representation in Austin, and which makes for the present effective lobby in our State Capitol, which so often defeats measures that would benefit the majority of our citizens.

He further stated that he is in favor of and will support legislation to enact the Hale - Aikin public school program, the Texas Farm Bureau program to strengthen our rural economy, and for a complete revision of the taxing structure of our state to remove all burdensome and unnecessary taxes, and to provide for a more equitable taxing policy coupled with ease of administration for efficient economical government. Sullivan believes that an earnest effort to practice economy in our state government can save the taxpayers many dollars and make additional personal taxes unnecessary. He believes the financial crisis of our state can be solved by taxing the abundant natural resources of Texas, which are to such as large extent exported out of the state and nation, thereby taxing the interest that are enjoying the benefits of our state without fairly sharing the tax burdens of our local citizens.

Godfrey Sullivan states that his main aim and desire in seeking election to the state Senate is to represent all of the people, interests, and groups of his district fairly and without discrimination, and to the best of his ability. That he is conducting his race for office without any financial aid, direct or indirect, and that he is not committed to any special interest or pressure groups. Further, that when elected, he will make his financial records available at all times to the voters of his district, in the belief that every elected public official should at all times be ready to make a full disclosure of all of his activities while in office.

"I sincerely appreciate the support and influence of the individual, thinking, and independent voter in my district," Sullivan concluded.

Richter, Laake Attend K of C Convention

Leo Laake and Rudolph Richter of Cameron are delegates to the 1960 State Convention of the Knights of Columbus, Fraternal Organization of Catholic men that was held in Austin, May 2, 3, and 4. Laake is Grand Knight of Cameron Council No. 2338 and Richter is a Delegate.

High point of the convention was the dedication of the new State Building, Texas is the first state to have a structure of this type to house the administrative offices of the Order.

The pre-convention activities began on Sunday, with an initiation of new members into the order. Registration was held on Monday morning, with the dedication of the State Headquarters and a pontifical High Mass was held in the afternoon. Business sessions took place on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Texas State Council Building, designed by Bill O'Connell of O'Connell and Probst, AIA, Austin Architects, features a sheltered grove dedicated to Our Lady of Guadalupe. Above the grove the architect has included a meditation deck, providing an area above the building level for reflection and quiet prayer.

New Letter Rates Reviewed

Postmaster J. R. Hays said today he has been advised by Postmaster General Arthur W. Summerfield that proposed new letter rate increases would cost the average family in Cameron about 15 cents more a month.

This finding Hays explained, is based on extensive new studies of proposed postal rate legislation. Because about three-fourths of the mail covered in the recommended new rates would be mailed by large commercial users, they would pay most of the additional $554 million in postage increases, the local postmaster emphasized.

In a press conference in Washington a few days ago, Postmaster Hays explained, the Postmaster General said he is now optimistic that Congress will approve the recommended rate increase before adjournment this summer.

The Postmaster General warned "the failure to adjust postal rates to postal expenses is not only piling up huge postal deficits which weaken our economic strength, but is also costing the taxpayers of the country in excess of $200 million annually in interest charges alone."

The proposed increases would raise ordinary letter costs from 4 to 5 cents an ounce; air mail from 7 to 8 cents, postal cards from 3 to 4 cents, and air mail postal cards from 5 to 6 cents.

The revenues from second class mail - mostly magazines and newspapers - would be increased about 40 percent, and third class mail - mostly advertising circulars - would be raised about 25 percent. Second class mail is producing a revenue deficiency of about $280,000,000 annually, and third class mail about $190,000,000 annually.

Other highlights of the Postmaster General's statement were:

THE 1960 DEFICIT for the fiscal year ending this June 30 will be over $600 million, despite economies which enable the Postal Service to deliver 20 percent more mail than in 1953 with less than an 8 percent increase in manpower.

THE 1961 DEFICIT for the year starting July 1 is an estimated $554 million.

THE 1958 POSTAGE rate increases did not solve the deficit problem because it was largely offset by postal salary increases, rail rate increases and fringe benefits.

EVEN WITH THE 1958 increase of one cent - 3 to 4 cents - for ordinary letters, the rate for letters has not kept pace with the times. Since 1932, first class letter rates have been increased only one third (by the 1958 law), but postal costs have increased more than 100 percent.

THOUGH THIRD CLASS mail advertising is the second largest advertising medium in the nation, below cost postage rates benefit these advertisers at the average rate of 1-cent for each piece mailed.

SECOND CLASS MAIL overall is losing nearly 4 cents for every piece handled, and postal revenues for this class of mail cover only about a fourth of the cost.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

The first time I ever saw the name, "Moulton (Ty) Cobb", it was signed to a sports news story from the University of Texas where Cobb was a student. I was then editor of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News and made use of all the articles he sent out, as did many other papers.

It was quite a few years later that we met for the first time. He was by then a popular personality in the Lower Rio Grande Valley with a radio program originating at Weslaco. Recently I was down his way and he had me as a guest on his program - now on television. He has presented five programs a week for 28 years and has been unable to appear only twice, which is quite a record.

After the program (which featured Senator Hudson of Brownsville, a beauty queen and a Hawaiian dancer and, of course, Ty with his homey remarks), I was a guest at luncheon. We went by his lovely home and he plucked two grapefruit from a tree in the yard and me - Mrs. Cobb, Ty and I - enjoying these as well as some huge, delicious Valley strawberries along with tender home-baked ham, and other attractive viands.

Happy is the man who finds his place in the world and fills it with enthusiasm and affection. Ty Cobb of the Valley is such a man.

When an author visited Sir Walter Scott at his home, Abbotsford, the visitor suggested they view Melrose and quoted Scott's lines: "If you would see Melrose aright Go visit it by the pale moonlight."

Scott replied, "By all means, let us go; I myself have never seen Melrose by moonlight."

There is an old saying, "Experience keeps a dear school - but fools will learn in no other." Isn't it a fact, however, that experience is the only way a man can learn anything - either your own experience or the experience of others (as, for example, in books, especially biography and history.)

And of the two methods, the smart man - as much as possible - learns from the experience of others. This is less painful.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Green, Raymond Craddock and Mary Lee visited the G. W. McLain family last weekend in Corpus Christi. The group enjoyed sight seeing and fishing.

Leroy Kubecka and Carolyn spent a week recently in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Kubecka.

Skelton Urges Big Primary Vote, Johnson Support

National Democratic Committeeman Byron Skelton today urged Texas Democrats to vote on Saturday and attend their precinct convention to safeguard their opportunity of voting in November for Sen. Lyndon Johnson for President.

The Milam County Democratic Executive Committee has approved a resolution boosting Johnson for President.

Skelton said there are daily indications that Sen. Johnson is moving out in front nationally.

"Support in an overwhelming majority of Texas' precincts will give Senator Johnson a tremendous boost nationally," Skelton said. "Texas represents a wide diversity of Democrats, including urban, rural, conservatives, moderates and liberals. Support of even a modest majority of precincts representing this diversity would demonstrate Senator Johnson's wide vote - pulling appeal in the Presidential race."

"To vote for Senator Johnson for President in November, we must first secure his nomination," Skelton added. "Our Texas delegation must be dedicated Johnson supporters who will work energetically and unceasingly for his nomination."

the weekend here with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davenport Jr. of Ft. Worth visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davenport Sr. last weekend.

"To make sure this is the kind of delegation we have, every individual Democratic voter of us should go to our precinct convention and urge support for Senator Johnson by resolution and instruction of delegates to the county conventions."

From the Johnson for President Headquarters in Austin, Executive Director Larry Blackmon reminded voters that the law this year is different. To attend the precinct convention the voter must first have voted in the primary. A stamped poll tax receipt or exemption certificate is the best evidence of having voted and should be presented at the precinct convention, Blackmon said.
